- 4.3. Orders may only be cancelled subject to written consent by the seller. The buyer shall pay any costs which the seller may have incurred.

5. Deliveries

- 5.1. Delivery is ex works.
- 5.2. If no other written agreement has been reached, the seller may choose form of transport.
- 5.3. If no other written agreement has been reached, the seller may choose time of delivery.
- 5.4. Delivery shall be regarded as complete if the seller has delivered 10% more or less than the amount of the order.
- 5.5. The seller is exempt from liability, and thus entitled to postpone the time of delivery, if any of the following situations arises after the agreement has been signed and prevents the agreement from being fulfilled: industrial disputes and all other situations which are beyond the control of the parties concerned, such as fire, exceptional weather conditions, natural catastrophes, war, mobilization or unforeseen military call-up of similar dimensions, requisition, confiscation, foreign exchange restrictions, riots and disturbances, the lack of transport, general shortage of goods, power restrictions, and any defects or delays in connection with supplies from the seller, which are due to the situations stated in this clause.
- 5.6. If any hindrance of delivery, which is due to one or more of the situations mentioned above in clause 6.3, is expected to last for more than 3 months, the seller is entitled to cancel the agreement without this being regarded as a breach of contract.

5.7. If the buyer requires changes to be made in the original agreement, while work is in hand, the time of delivery will be postponed.

5.8. Any tasks that are to be undertaken by the buyer such as samples, dimension sketches, statements of weight etc., must be completed in time, if the time of delivery must be observed. If such tasks are not completed in time, then the time of delivery will be postponed.

6. Transport insurance

6.1. Unless otherwise agreed, the buyer shall take out a transport insurance policy. Moreover, the buyer shall undertake to keep goods insured.

7. Delays by the buyer

7.1. If the buyer becomes aware that he will not be able to take delivery of the goods by the stipulated date - or if a delay on his part is likely to occur – he shall forthwith notify the seller in writing, stating the cause of the delay and, wherever possible, the probable time when reception can take place.

7.2. Notwithstanding that the buyer fails to take delivery of the goods at the stipulated time, he shall make any payment contingent upon delivery, as if delivery of the relevant goods had taken place.

7.3. The seller shall make sure that the goods are stored for the buyer’s account and at the buyer’s risk. The seller shall at the buyer’s request insure the goods at the buyer’s expense.

8. Defects

8.1. The seller undertakes for a period of 12 successive months after the date of delivery to rectify all defects in deliveries – cf. clause 8.5 below – due to construction, materials, or manufacture, and which are a result of mistakes that can be related to the seller. The buyer shall notify the seller in writing of any defects without undue delay after such defects have appeared.

8.2. The obligation to make repairs does not apply in situations in which defects are due to the fact that the consignment has not been maintained and used in full agreement with the seller’s directions, or if the consignment is used incorrectly or inappropriately, or if alterations or technical adjustments are made without the written consent of the seller.

8.3. Wearing parts are not included in the right of redress.

8.4. Costs in connection with installation and dismantling are not included in the right of redress.

8.5. If the buyer wishes to claim the right of redress, the seller is entitled to choose either at no cost to the buyer and within a reasonable period of time to replace the defective goods by supplying corresponding goods to the buyer ex works on the conditions contained in these Terms, or to credit the defective goods once the goods are returned at the buyer’s expense, or to offer the buyer a reduction in price of the goods concerned.

8.6. The seller is under no circumstances liable for indirect losses, such as running loss, loss of profits or loss of time.

9. Product liability

9.1. The seller is only liable for damages as far as the current legislation at any time does not completely or partly exempt the seller from such liability.

9.2. The seller shall only be liable for damage caused by the products, where it can be shown that such damage was due to fault or negligence on the seller’s part or that of the seller’s employees. Under no circumstances shall the seller be liable for loss of profits, loss of earnings, or any other consequential financial loss.

- 9.3. The seller is not liable for damage to property or movables.
- 9.4. In the event, that the seller incurs product liability towards any third party, the buyer shall indemnify the seller to the same extent as the seller's liability is limited according to the above. If any third party raises a claim for compensation against the buyer in any case of product damage, the buyer shall forthwith notify the seller to this effect.

10. Payment

- 10.1. The seller's Term of payment is stated in the price offer/order confirmation.
- 10.2. If payment is made after the due day of payment, penalty interest will be charged for every commenced month after the latest due date agreed for payment, at the rate and falling due as stated on the invoice.
- 10.3. The buyer may not set-off any claims he might have on the seller from other legal matters in the purchase price, nor may the buyer hold back the goods to balance such counterclaims.
- 10.4. Any delay in payment shall also entitle the seller to hold back further deliveries, and in addition exempt the seller from all other contractual commitments. The seller is also entitled to demand compensation from the buyer.
- 10.5. In the event of non-payment, the buyer (debtor) shall pay all costs of collecting and recovering the debt, inclusive of charges and fees for lawyers, debt-collection agencies etc.

- 11.1. Production rights follow the copyright, which means that models developed by the seller or models, for which the seller has paid development costs, may only be produced by the seller or with our permission.
- 11.2. Tooling costs that have been debited the buyer represent in all cases only part of the total cost. Tools are constructed as part of our machinery equipment and shall always be regarded as our property.

12. Drawings and descriptions

- 12.1. All drawings in brochures and data sheets are approximate and without liability. The seller reserves the right to make changes if the seller regards such changes as technically necessary or advantageous.

13. All monies Retention of Title clause (RoT)

Notwithstanding delivery and the passing of risk, property in and title to the goods shall remain with the seller until the seller has received payment of the full price of (a) all goods and/or services subject to the Contract and (b) all other goods and/or services supplied by the seller to the buyer under any contract whatsoever. Payment of the full price shall include, without limitation, the amount of any interest or other sum payable under the terms of this and all other contracts between the seller and the buyer.

- 13.1. We only deliver, even if we do not expressly refer to it, under retention of title in accordance with the conditions mentioned below.
- 13.2. All goods delivered by us remain our property until full payment.
- 13.3. The buyer is entitled to resell the goods subject to retention of title in the normal course of business. He assigns all Receivables which accrue to him from the resale against his buyer or against third parties, to the amount of our invoice including value added tax, irrespective of whether goods were resold with or without processing. The buyer remains authorized to collect the claim against his customers. We are entitled to revoke this authority if the buyer does not meet his payment obligations. In this case, the purchaser is obliged to inform us of the assigned receivables and their debtors, to provide all information necessary for the collection, to make available the documents necessary for the enforcement and to notify his customers of the assignment.

- 13.4. The buyer shall process the goods subject to retention of title on our behalf without any obligations arising for us from this. In the event of processing, combining, mixing, or blending of the reserved goods with other goods not belonging to us, we shall acquire co-ownership of the goods which do not belong to us, we shall acquire co-ownership of the new value of the reserved goods in relation to the invoice value of the other goods.
- 13.5. The buyer shall store the new item for us free of charge. To secure our receivables against the purchaser, the purchaser also assigns to us such receivables against the third party where goods are subject to retention of title with a piece of real estate. We accept this assignment already now.
- 13.6. In the event of any breach of contract by the buyer, we shall be entitled to take back the goods subject to retention of title, the purchaser shall be obliged to surrender them. Such repossession of the goods subject to retention of title shall not constitute a withdrawal from the contract unless we declare this in writing.
- 13.7. The buyer is obliged to insure the reserved goods at his own expense against theft, breakage, fire, and water damage.
- 13.8. We undertake to release the securities to which we are entitled at the request of the buyer, insofar as their value of the secured receivable exceed by more than 20%.

14. Disputes

- 14.1. All and any disputes arising out of or in connection with this contract shall be settled according to the law in the seller's country.
- 14.2. Any legal action shall be instituted at the seller's or buyer's venue, at the seller's option.
